G. B. SWIFT GOES IN BY 41,110 VOTES

Whitehall—The town election was non-partisan. All the candidates elected are republicans.

RESULTS IN MINNESOTA.

License Wins at Nearly Every Point Where It Is an Issue.

St. Paul, Minn., April 3.—The most noticeable feature of the Minnesota municipal elections yesterday was the success of the license ticket every place where the liquor question was an issue. Following are the results reported up to a late hour with the names of the successful candidates for mayor:

Mankato, Weaver, R., (re-elected); Tracy, J. M. Wardell, license; Sank Center, H. N. Miner, independent; Albert Lea, V. Gillrup, license; Kasson, license; Waseca, D. S. Cummings; St. Peter, Henry Molle; Rushford, H. M. Smith (re-elected); Wilmar, Benjamin Williams, license; Blooming Prairie, J. F. Beatty, license; Fairabault, Benjamin E. Sheffield, R.; Fergus Falls, Dr. T. N. McLean, D.(re-elected); Anoka, George Goodrich, R.; George Parker, independent; Lake City, F. C. Titsall (re-elected); Virginia, Robert McTruer.

LIGHT VOTE IN KANSAS CITIES.

Wets in the Lead in the Prohibition Fight—Few Women Vote.

Topeka, Kan., April 3.—The vote cast in this city was not half of the registration, being the lightest cast for many years. The republican mayor was elected here. The election in other Kansas cities shows a light vote, with but few straight party fights, the contest in many cities being two republicans championing local issues. At Arkansas City there is a hot fight over waterworks questions; at Fort Scott and other border and river towns the fight is wet or dry, with the wets in the lead. The woman vote all over the state is reported exceedingly light. In Topeka the women cast the smallest vote in many years, a majority of those voting being populists who were anxious to assist that party in holding its own in the Topeka vote.

Michigan Rolls Up Big Figures.

Detroit, Mich., April 3.—Practically complete returns from every county in the state indicate that Judge Moore, R., has been elected Justice of the Supreme court by 36,000 plurality, and Butterfield and Hackley Regents of the State university by 36,500 and 38,000 plurality respectively. The amendment to the state constitution increasing the salaries of state officers was lost by a three-fourths vote. Returns from the interior counties on the state ticket show an increase in the republican vote that, if kept up, will give Moore a big plurality.

Licenses in Favor in Nebraska.

Omaha, Neb., April 3.—Party lines were not drawn in municipal elections in Nebraska in many cases. The question of granting saloon licenses was the leading issue and was favored in four-fifths of the towns. Frank Graham, R., was elected Mayor of Lincoln by a large majority. The vote was heavy with no striking features. The Populists showed no great strength where they had tickets up.

Illinois Congressman Elected.

Galesburg, Ill., April 3.—George W. Prince, rep., estimates that he will be elected to congress from the Tenth district, to succeed Philip S. Post, by 10,000 plurality.

All the Bills Are Introduced.

St. Paul, Minn., April 3.—The time for the introduction of bills is past, and the legislature is now disposing of measures before it, only a small percentage of which will pass. The house committee on railroads recommended the following bills for indefinite postponement: Providing penalties for unjust discrimination in freight rates and fixing a maximum rate on freight of Class D. The senate indefinitely postponed the senate capitol bill which made a portion of the appropriation immediately available in order that work may begin on the building.

Two Thousand Work men Made Idle.

Philadelphia, Pa., April 3.—The Spreckles sugar refinery here has shut down. It is said the reason for the suspension of work is the fact that there is a greater quantity of manufactured sugar on hand than there is market for. Two thousand workmen are made idle by the closing down.

New Tariff's Benefits Small.

Sheffield, April 3.—The value of the exports of cutlery from this place to the United States during the last quarter was, £28,678 ($143,390) against £14,158 ($70,790) during the corresponding quarter of 1894, but the benefits of the new American tariff have been far less than traders here expected.

Falls Heir to $1,000,000.

Springfield, Ohio, April 3.—Mrs. Prof. Warren of Belvidere, Ill., divorced wife of Dr. L. E. Miles of this city, who was born in France of wealthy parents, has fallen heir to $1,000,000, according to the statement of her divorced husband, by the death of relatives there.

Howgate Again Indicted.

Washington, April 3.—Captain Howgate has been indicted for alleged frauds on the government during the time he was disbursing officer of the signal service. The new indictments are three in number. One alleges forgery of a $4,000 account with the American Union Telegraph company in 1879, another charges embezzlement and the third falsification of accounts.

Hurt by a Dynamite Explosion.

Lyons, Iowa, April 3.—By the premature explosion of five sticks of dynamite Bell McFarland and John Schneider were fatally hurt.

BOMB AT BUDAPEST FAILED TO WORK

WENT OFF, BUT NOT THE WAY THEY INTENDED.

Was An Attempt to Blow Up a Monument Commemorating the Bravery of Austrian Soldiers—Peace Negotiations In the East May be Stopped—Foreign News.

Budapest, April 3.—An attempt was made last night to blow up the Hentzi monument, erected to the memory of the Austrian general who fell while defending the fortress against the Hungarians in 1849.

The monument is a Gothic column in bronze, sixty-six feet high, rising over a group of the dying heroes crowned by victory. A well-dressed man was seen to deposit a parcel, to which was attached a lighted fuse, near the monument. A tremendous explosion followed, shattering the windows of Archduke Joseph's palace, the armory and other buildings in the vicinity. The monument, however, was not injured.

JAPAN ASKS TOO MUCH.

Fear That Peace Negotiations May Be Stopped.

St. Petersburg, April 3.—A telegram received here from a Chinese source says that the bad weather, the sickness among the Japanese troops, and the overflow of the rivers have rendered a continuance of the war extremely difficult. It is added that this produced a favorable effect upon the peace negotiations, but the hopes for a speedy conclusion of peace are weakened by the Japanese demand for the cession of a portion of Manchuria, a war indemnity of 700,000,000 yen and pending full payment of this indemnity that Peking be occupied by the Japanese troops.

Sinking of the Alvah.

Paris, April 3.—As an indication of the strained relations between England and France, the Matin and other French newspapers persist in insinuating that the collision March 30 off Messina, island of Sicily, between two British steamers, the Alvah and the Brinkburn, the latter chartered by the French government as a transport to take troops and munitions of war to the island of Madagascar, was due to England's malice and that a nation capable of such an action should be made to regret it.

Famous Cotton King Dead.

Liverpool, April 3.—William Steenstrand, the cotton king who exploited the great corner in cotton in 1890, which caused such a sensation and which resulted in his losing $5,000,000, is dead.

ALL TROUBLE AT AN END.

Mexico and Guatemala Settle Their Boundary Difficulties.

City of Mexico, April 3.—The Guatemalan boundary question is settled. President Diaz has formally signed with the Guatemalan minister the official document which prevented the threatened open rupture between the two countries, and congratulations are heard on all sides for the stand taken by the president, Foreign Minister Mariscal and Mexicans generally at a time full of danger and menace to the nation's safety and dignity. The official information on the Guatemalan question was given last night in the president's message before the semi-annual opening of the seventeenth session of the national congress.

It is understood that Guatemala will soon tender Mexico due apology for the insults offered this republic and will pay full indemnity for losses inflicted upon American and Mexican lumber-camp owners at Agua Azul. The president's message began as usual with reference to foreign peace relations and to the United States as follows:

"A satisfactory termination has been reached with the United States regarding the islands off the coast of Yucatan, where deposits of guano were located and claimed by American citizens, Mexico having proved ownership to the islands, the United States recognized the claim of Mexico and withdrew her own."

DECIDES THE QUESTION.

Apportionment of 1893 Declared Constitutional by Illinois Supreme Court.

Springfield, Ill., April 3.—The Illinois Supreme court, in an opinion filed yesterday, decides the democratic apportionment of 1893 constitutional.

The opinion is written by Justice Carter, republican, the latest accession to the supreme bench, and is concurred in by all the justices. It takes up every question involved and discusses each at length. Many citations are made sustaining the points covered by the opinion.

Setback for Pingree.

Detroit, April 3.—The new city health board, which has hitherto been compelled to do business without money, has won a point against Mayor Pingree's administration. A mandamus was ordered by the Circuit court to compel the city comptroller to draw an order for $12,000 with which to pay the board's expenses temporarily.

Deadly Explosion of a Mill Boiler.

Saginaw, Mich., April 3.—The boiler in the boiler house of the mill plant of Emery & Simpson exploded at 6 o'clock last evening, wrecking the boiler house and killing Frank Kelley, a laborer. John Hartel, night watchman, was injured about the head, probably fatally. Frank Carpenter, the engineer, was bruised on the side and arm.

Greenhut Defends It.

Peoria, Ill., April 3.—President Greenhut of the Distilling and Cattle Feeding company says that he considers Nelson Morris' cattle-feeding contract perfectly valid, and that everything about it is open and aboveboard.

ENTIRE CREW LOST WITH A BIG BOAT

STEAMER CITY OF HAVERHILL SUNK.

She Was a Large Flat Bottomed Stern Wheel Craft and Not Designed For Trips on the Ocean—The Body of Captain W. P. Watrous Finally Picked Up.

New York, April 3.—Pilot W. Crocker of the pilot boat James Bennett brought in from the sea last night a story that will explain to many anxious hearts why they have not heard since she sailed, from the men who went out in the little steamer City of Haverhill, which started for Key West Thursday.

She was a flat-bottomed, stern-wheel river boat and on her trip south was to put into a safe harbor every night, but no word was received of her until Pilot Crocker's arrival and he reports that the body of her captain, W. P. Watrous, and some wreckage were sighted by the men of the James Bennett after the heavy blow of Friday off Barnegat. The rest of the men aboard may perhaps have been picked up, but old sailors who knew of the story last night shook their heads in dismay and said the City of Haverhill would not live five minutes at sea in half a gale.

Those known to have been aboard and who undoubtedly perished were:

CAPT. W. P. WATROUS.

PILOT W. D. VAN WYCKE, a well-known and popular yachting captain.

CHIEF ENGINEER SAMUEL BROWN.

ASSISTANT ENGINEER J. F. LUEKENBACH.

STEWARD FRED PROBST.

——— WATROUS, a young college student.

The full complement of men required to manage the vessel was fourteen, but it is thought she started to make the trip with a smaller number.

GRESHAM WILL NOT RESIGN.

There Is No Truth in the Rumor So Persistently Circulated.

Washington, April 3.—A vigorous denial is entered in administration circles of the story that Secretary Gresham is about to resign. The secretary himself will not be interviewed on the subject, not caring, it is explained, to dignify the report by a denial.

It is a fact that the secretary has been in ill-health for some time past, and his recent attack of neuralgia in the stomach, which was much more serious than was generally understood at the time, has left him much debilitated and in need of rest. This he has been unable to secure in Washington owing to the frequency with which delicate and embarrassing diplomatic questions have been forced upon him of late, and it is now probable that he will yield to the solicitations of his family and friends so far as to take a short leave of absence and go to his farm in Indiana, and perhaps stop for a time in Chicago. It is assumed here that the report of his intention to go west shortly was the foundation for the story of his intention to resign from the cabinet.

NATION'S DEBT IS LARGER.

Carlisle's Report for March Shows an Increase of $18,317,105.

Washington, April 3.—The monthly treasury statement of the public debt shows that on March 30, 1895, the public debt, less cash in the treasury, amounted to $908,730,046, an increase for the month of $18,317,105. The amount of new 4 per cent bonds issued during the month was $28,807,900.

Following is a recapitulation of the debt: Interest-bearing debt, $713,851,960; increase during the month, $28,808,100; debt on which interest has ceased since maturity, $1,770,250, decrease during the month, $9,050; debt bearing no interest, $381,787,366, decrease during the month, $762,270; total debt, $1,664,591,749, of which $567,944,442 is certificates and treasury notes offset by an equal amount of cash in the treasury.

The treasury cash is classified as follows: Gold, $139,486,496; silver, $510,259,879; paper, $131,227,047; general amount, disbursing officers' balances, etc., $16,224,166; total, $797,237,589, against which there are demand liabilities amounting to $609,320,328, leaving a cash balance of $187,917,261, of which $90,643,307 is gold reserve.

Burned Their Victim.

Santa Fe, N. M., April 3.—Jesus Vilprando and Feliciano Chavez have been found guilty of murder in the first degree. Jan. 20 they were caught by Thomas Martinez in the act of stealing and killing his father's cattle in South Santa Fe county. They invited Martinez into a corral, where they shot him, placed his body across a fire and burned it, nothing remaining but a few bones and one foot incased in a rubber shoe.

FOUR ON EACH SIDE.

Rumor of a Tie in the Supreme Court on the Income Tax.

Washington, April 3.—There was a revival yesterday of the first rumor that was in circulation after the close of the arguments in the income tax cases, which was to the effect that the eight justices who sat on the bench during the arguments were equally divided—four being in favor of sustaining the law and four being in favor of declaring it to be unconstitutional. There does not seem to be any more substantial foundation for this rumor than those that have preceded it, but if it should prove to be correct it might explain the delay of the court in announcing the decision, for it is part of the rumor that the justices are extremely reluctant to allow the case to rest in this way, and are trying to find some method of bringing about a rehearing, with a full bench if possible, though it seems to be probable that Mr. Justice Jackson, the member of the court who was absent, will be able to occupy his place on the bench soon again. If the court should be equally divided and the case should not be reheard the practical effect would be the reaffirmation of the decisions of the court below, as this is the rule which applies in the case of a tie vote in the court. As the courts below affirmed the constitutionality of the law it would stand under such circumstances. The court would naturally be very reluctant to allow a case of such importance, involving as it does many millions of dollars and the construction of the fundamental provision in the constitution in regard to the taxing power of the government, to be decided in such a way, as in the event of the same question being presented before a full bench in some other case the decision might be the other way.

THE ACTIVITY IN SILVER.

Starr Colgate Says It Is All on a Speculative Basis.

New York, April 3.—Activity in silver which has been noted of late, continued yesterday, when about 300,000 ounces were sold in the market here. In speaking of the silver market and the causes and prospects of the present movevent Mr. Starr Colgate of the firm of Nesslage, Colgate & Co., said:

"The movement began on receipt of the news from Germany favoring a bimetallic conference. It was helped when a motion that seemed to lean toward such a conference was made in the English house of commons. The news of peace negotiations between Japan and China, to carry a large indemnity in silver, also had propelling force. A good deal of silver is now under lock. It will come out fast enough when the speculators believe that the advance is over. I cannot see in the movement much beyond the speculative feature. Talk of bimetallic action by Germany and England seems to have subsided. If it is to be revived it must be done by these countries. A debtor country like the United States cannot lead in such a movement. We have had silver troubles enough without inviting others.

"In regard to an indemnity to be paid by China, it has seemed to me that gold might be demanded. Dispatches speak more of silver, but Japan is earning a reputation as a country of advanced ideas, and it may be that talk there of putting the finances on a gold basis may be emphasized in the demands on China. I am inclined to look on the present movement as speculative."

Balfour Is to Be Sent to London.

Buenos Ayres, April 3.—A federal judge has ordered the Salta government to deliver Jabez Spencer Balfour, whose extradition Great Britain has long been trying to obtain, to the British legation in this city. He will be taken to London to answer the charges made against him in connection with the collapse of the Liberator Building society and allied concerns, the failure of which ruined thousands of persons. At the time of his flight from England Balfour was a member of parliament.

Cokers Talk of Strike.

Uniontown, Pa., April 3.—The cokeworkers were greatly excited when information that rents of the company houses had been advanced from 30 to 40 percent, and the talk of a general strike throughout the region is general. The men claim that the recent advance of 16 per cent in wages, which went into effect yesterday, was only a ruse to prevent a strike, as they will not be benefited in the least by it. A convention will be held to consider the matter.

Scandalous Letter Writer Found.

Altona, Prussia, April 3.—A youth, who was just to join the army, has been arrested here on the charge of being the author of anonymous compromising letters addressed to various members of the imperial family during recent years. The arrest of this young man recalls the Von Kotze scandal, which furnished gossip for thousands of tongues.

IOWA MULCT LAW.

State Supreme Court Decides the Measure Is Constitutional.

Des Moines, Iowa, April 3.—In the case of the state of Iowa vs. J. .I Forkner and W. M. Moore, involving the mulct liquor law, the Supreme court yesterday held the law to be constitutional. It was insisted first that the act was unconstitutional because the title does not sufficiently set forth the purpose of the law. This point is overruled. It was argued that the law gave to voters of certain cities power to abrogate a prohibitory law, a power which the legislature can not delegate. The court answers that the mulct law is a general law, applicable to all communities. The last poin raised was that the law is unconstitutional because it grants to people of localities the pardoning power. The court says the law does not remit any fines or forfeitures, for none is imposed. Judge Kinn filed a lengthy dissenting opinion.

FOR NATIONAL SCHOOLS.

Greenway Cabinet Will Not Dissolve—Will Obey People's Mandate.

Winnipeg, Man., April 3.—It is said there is not the slightest truth in the report of division in the Greenway government over the school question, but that each member is resolute in his determination to stand by the national schools, no matter what the issue may be. To yield to any suggestion as to the appointment of a commission or making a compromise would, it is considered, be perfectly suicidal and would never be approved by the public. Manitoba also counts upon the hearty support of Ontario in this struggle.

Gresham Going to Lakewood.

Washington, April 3.—Secretary Gresham, whose duties have been so confining and unusually onerous for the past month, has made arrangements to go to Lakewood, N. J., for a week or ten days to recuperate. He had more than one severe attack of the grip and neuralgia during the winter, which left him too weak to stand the strain resulting from the exceptional number of diplomatic incidents which have recently arisen. Mrs. Gresham will accompany him to Lakewood. The secretary expects to remain in Washington all summer.

Jamaica Not to Increase Duties.

Washington, April 3.—O. O. Eckford, United States consul at Kingston, Jamaica, has notified the State department of the defeat of the legislative council of the island of a bill designated to increase materially the customs duties on many articles imported from the United States. Consul Eckford says he thinks it improbable that a like measure will be brought up again this session.

Sugar Refinery Closes Down.

New York, April 4.—The Havemeyer and Elder sugar refinery in Brooklyn has closed down temporarily. Secretary Searles of the American Sugar Refining company would not state the reasons, but it is given out from reliable sources that the shut down was due to overproduction and stagnation in trade. It was also said other refineries in the company would follow suit for the same reasons.

Whole Block Burns at St. Charles, Ill.

Elgin, Ill., April 3.—The best business block in St. Charles was destroyed by fire yesterday. It started in Stewart Bros.' gristmill, a frame building, which burned like tinder. That's the way it stands.

The stars indicate the democrats; the rest are republicans.

The returns form a curious enigma which may be turned in numerous ways. For instance, every republican candidate on the city ticket was elected except the mayor, and the majorities of the republicans ranged from 124 for sealer, to 460 for street commissioner. Alderman Child, the republican candidate for mayor, made a good run in every ward except the Second, which he has faithfully represented in the council for four years.

Some Reasons Advanced.

Some say it was because Alderman Child did not place an electric light in each of the streets now lighted by oil lamps; others that he did not extend water mains; while others attribute it to various local factions scattered around the ward. However, it is plain that the republican candidate's defeat was caused by some unknown dissatisfaction especially in his own ward, where it was confidently expected his majority would be over fifty, but which gave his opponent a majority of 20. Had Mr. Child received the majority of the lowest candidate in his own ward, he would have been elected mayor.

However, the republicans have lost more than the simple defeat of Mr. Child for mayor. The powers of the mayor are many. The enforcement of the laws, whether it be from a republican or democratic point of policy is of importance to Janesville people. The mayor has power in his own hands to appoint all police officers, and remove them, except the city marshal, at his pleasure. He appoints all inspectors and clerks of elections. With the approval of the common council, he can remove other officers and make appointments. Mr. Baines, who was elected mayor yesterday, is a gentleman for whom everyone entertains the highest regard, and he will give the city a good administration, yet, he being a democrat, his interpretation of all methods will necessarily be from a democratic standpoint, notwithstanding the fact that he was elected by republican voters.

Badger's Gallant Run.

Arthur E. Badger, who was classed as an unknown quantity in the campaign, made a splendid run, defeating his popular democratic opponent by a majority of 168, showing conclusively that he was not without friends.

J. H. Watson, the republican candidate for street commissioner, distanced the field, so to speak. In fact his opponent does not appear to have much more than place on the ticket, Watson having a majority in every ward except the Fifth, his total majority in the city being 460.

T. W. Goldin for school commissioner at large, comes in second best in the race, he defeating his democratic opponent by 244.

D. T. Kenyon for sealer, defeats hss democratic opponent by 124 votes.

The common council will stand six republicans to four democrats, and the school board will stand five republicans to two democrats.

The new council will be composed at follows, republicans in roman, democrats in italics:

WARDS.	ELECTED.	HOLD OVER
First	Stearns	Heddles
Second	Burnham	Sutherland
Third	Inman	Winslow
Fourth	Hemming
Fourth	Kothman

The school board will be as follows: At Large—A. G. Anderson, Theo. W. Goldin.

First ward—James Shearer.
Second ward—Fred L. Clemons.
Third ward—John Cunningham.
Fourth ward—R. W. McLean.

THE RETURNS FROM THE COUNTY

Republicans Elect the Majority of Their Nominees At All Places.

Returns from the county are slow in coming in but reports received so far are as follows:

Evansville—Supreme court justice, Winslow, 76; Clementson, 182. President, P. C. Wilder, Rep., majority 72; clerk, W. R. Phillips, Rep., whole vote cast; assessor, Homer Potter, Rep. whole vote cast; treasurer George L. Pullen, Rep. majority 56. The remainder of the village ticket, all republican, is elected. The law and order ticket was badly beaten. The town of Union gives Clementson 38, Winslow 17.

Edgerton—The city of Edgerton gives Winslow 178 and Clementson 175. W. S. Heddles is elected mayor without opposition; treasurer, R. G. Robinson; assessor, Nelson Taylor. License carried by 126 majority.

Beloit—The election resulted in the re-election of C. A. Smith, the republican nominee for mayor, by 284 majority over J. A. Janvrin, independent republican. The democrats took little active part ih the campaign. Three republican and one democratic aldermen are elected. The vote on the question was favorable for license. For supreme Judge, Winslow received 805 and Clementson 598 votes.

Afton—The entire democratic ticket was elected in Rock township while on the judicial ballot Judge Clementson had a majority of one.

Clinton Junction—In the town and the village Clementson gets 194, Winslow 80. License carries in the village by 38. W. H. Hartshorn is elected president; J. S. Campbell, clerk; J. R. Jones, treasurer; Henry Conley, supervisor. In the town the straight republican ticket is elected.

Milton—Clementson 206, Winslow 175. Republican town ticket, 135 majorities: license was defeated by 71 majority.

Free, and What Everybody Wants.

Perfect health and strength, to dare and to do, that's what you want and you know it. Here is a sure way to get it. Dr. Greene of 35 West 14th St., New York City, is the most successful specialist in the world in curing nervous and chronic diseases. He is also the discoverer of that wonderful medicine, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. He has established a remarkable system of letter correspondence, by which you can write him all about your complaint, telling just how you feel and stating each symptom from which you are suffering. He will answer your letter, describing your case thoroughly and telling you a sure way to regain your health and strength. And for all this you have nothing to pay. He gives most careful attention to every letter, and describes each symptom so exactly that you cannot fail to understand exactly what ails you. He makes a specialty of curing patients through letter correspondence. You have no fee to pay and you don't have to leave home. Here is the best opportunity you ever had to get well. Will you accept or reject it?

Sick headache, constipation and indigestion are quickly cured by De Witt's Little Early Risers, the famous little pills. C. D. Stevens.

A Good Indication.

No practitioner in any of the professions, can year after year, do business in any locality without inspiring confidence by reason of his success or else proving that his pretensions to skill are groundless, and the best evidence that Dr. Brewer is a skillful physician, is to be found in the fact that for many years he has visited various localities in this state—and each year his reputation for success has been growing brighter. There must be merit to command such confidence. Dr. Brewer will be at the Park Hotel in this city on Monday, April 8.

B. H. Bowman, Pub. Enquirer, of Bremen, Ind., writes: Last week our little girl baby the only one we have was taken sick with the croup. After two doctors failed to give relief and life was hanging on a mere thread we tried One Minute Cough Cure and its life was saved. C. D. Stevens.

CLEMENTSON WINS IN ROCK COUNTY

THE VOTE, HOWBVER, IS VERY CLOSE INDEED.

With Twenty-Six Precincts Reported and Eleven Missing His Lead Is Only Twenty Votes but the Districts Yet to Be Heard From Are Mostly Republican.

The judicial election in Rock county is very close and the official figures are very hard to get.

With reports from twenty-six towns and precincts heard from and eleven missing Judge Clementson has a majority of twenty the vote standing, Clementson 2312, Winslow, 2,292. The vote so far as has been recorded with County Clerk McIntyre is as follows, the missing precincts being left blank. Some changes may be made in the figures but they are substantially correct as far as they go:

Total	2312	2292

The missing precincts and the republican pluralities therein last fall are as follows and may indicate to some degree how the vote will go: Avon 76, La Prairie 36, Lima 105, Porter 30, Spring Valley 190, Turtle 96, city of Janesville (total in all wards) 258. Total 718.

Justice Winslow, it will be seen has run ahead of the democratic votes in nearly all the towns and precincts and as he has carried the cities of Beloit, Edgerton and probably Janesville, the result is by no means sure.

ENTERTAINMENT WAS A NOVEL ONE

Clisophic Literary Society's Successful Rendition of Tennyson's Poems.

It was a novel entertainment that the members of the Clisophic Literary Society presented at the Congretional church last evening when Tennyson's "Elaine" and 'Guinevere" were presented as tableaux. The costuming, scenic arrangements and accuracy of representation were as nearly perfect as they could be, and the entertainment was a success in the fullest sense of the world. The music was furnished by Miss Sophia Wiesend and H. C. Buell, while Miss Gertrude Cobb and Malcomb Mouat had charge of the arrangements.

FASHIONS IN MILLINERY.

Low Crown Louis Seize Hats and Coarse Straws In Favor.

Hats and bonnets are making their springtide appearance. The Louis Seize hat, or round crowned, flat and rather broad brimmed chapeau boldly turned up at the back, is a favorite. It is trimmed either with broad bows or rosettes of beautiful shot ribbon, clumps of flowers and leaves or upon the top of the crown with enormous bows of shot velvet or ivory tinted lace. Beige colored straws, very coarse ones, by the way, are trimmed with great rosettes of periwinkle mauve ribbon shot with fern green and bronze and clusters of lilies of the valley, with their cool green leaves standing en aigrette. Other hats are ornamented with M. de Montesquieu's favorite flower—the Hortensia or hydrangea bloom. The latter, in numerous shade of green, bluish mauve or mauvish blue, flesh color and a more intense pink, are set en couronne around the crown of the hat, while a huge bow of satin or lace furnishes the entire back of the chapeau, dubbed "Trianon," "Lamballe," "Polignac" or "Louis Seize" according to the fancy of the modiste or that of the purchaser.

Straw hats and bonnets are now brought out in almost as many tints as are dress goods instead of being confined to white, natural straw, brown and black, as was the case for so many years. All the fashionable colors are represented, so that the suitability of hat to costume no longer depends entirely upon the flower used in trimming it. There are a variety of coarse straws and chips woven for this season's wear, and the greens and yellows are particularly pleasing. Mixed straws are also shown in attractive blendings. Blossoms of mauve and bluet tints seem to enjoy the greatest popularity, and greens are also well represented.

An illustration is given of a Parisian theater hat. The crown is of an embroidery of silver, with spangles and black chenille. The plaited brim forms a sort of bow in front, clasped by a steel ornament, from which spring two aigrets. The trimming of the hat consists of three pairs of silver wings.

FASHIONABLE MATERIALS.

Crepons and Fancy Weaves—Capes of Changeable Silk—Belted Bodices.

Silk crepons are carrying all before them this spring, and they are certainly beautiful, both in color and weave. As they are $3 or $4 a yard they are not likely to become too common. They are plain, dotted, striped and crinkled in all fashions. Next in favor come glace taffetas flowered or figured. In thin goods there are lovely batistes, with a crepon finish, which are to be made up over a bright colored lining.

Fancy weaves are given the preference over plain goods, and checks, figured goods and broken surfaces are seen in all materials, besides the moire and changeable effects with which we were familiar last season.

Capes are universally accepted, and those intended for warm weather wear are of changeable silk and satin trimmed with lace and embroideries and lined with bright plaid silk. The typical spring jacket is light in color and has a short but full basque.

The fashionable skirt is short enough to show the feet a little, and therefore additional attention is paid to the boots. It is never safe to neglect them, however, no matter how long the skirt may be, since they are one of the surest indications of the wearer's status and refinement.

The bodices of all the new gowns seen as yet are belted—a style which is well enough for slender women, but most unfortunate for those of more robust growth. The immense sleeves now worn, however, by widening the shoulders make the waist appear smaller, a fact which should be borne in mind by every woman inclined to corpulence.

Five or six years ago everybody was wearing black evening gowns, but they have almost entirely disappeared for several seasons past. A Parisian costumer has revived the idea in one of the late models, and a sketch is given of the gown. The skirt is of black velvet and is trimmed solely with a large bow of satin ribbon in front near the foot. The blouse bodice is of black tulle covered with black spangles and has a tight black satin lining. The sleeves are of plain tulle arranged in narrow puffs, and a large ribbon bow rests on the left shoulder. A jet butterfly rests on the front of the square decolletage.

A Slight Offense.

An English tourist arrived in an Irish town, where a man was about to be hanged for shooting his landlord. Ignorant of the cause of the gathering, he questioned one of the peasants.

Englishman—What is going on today, my man?

Peasant—They're going t'hang a man, sor.

Englishman — What is he to be hanged for?

Peasant—Just for a bit uv a joke, sor.

Englishman—Hang a man for a joke? Absurd! What did he do?

Peasant—He just made game uv his landlord, sor.—Life.

An Illustration.

Professor—I have shown you that the color of living creatures is usually a close imitation of their surroundings. Now will some one give us an example of this?

A Dangerous Thing.

THE ELECTION.

From all parts of the country comes the cheering news of republican victories. Chicago leads the procession with a clean cut majority of 50,000 and smaller cities througbout the northwest fall into line. In Janesville the result is not entirely satisfactory, although the republicans elect the entire city ticket, except the mayor and the council will stand six republicans and four democrats.

Mr. Badger made a good run for city clerk, while Mr. Watson's large majority for street commissioner was a happy surprise to even his most ardent supporters.

The defeat of Mr. Child for mayor is regretted by the many friends who supported him so enthusiastically, but his defeat will not be considered a republican defeat.

The dissatisfaction that prevailed at the time of his nomination produced an under current against him that could not be overcome. He was recognized, however unjustly, as the candidate of the A. P. A. organization, and many republicans who would not be convinced to the contrary, cast their votes accordingly——not against Mr. Child, but against an organization that is a menace to to the republican party—believing that the time had come, when the party should say emphatically:

"We will not tolerate narrowness or bigotry to the extent of dictation."

Janesville is a republican city, and will continue to be for some time to come. Mr. Child is recognized as a staunch and loyal supporter of his party, and had his nomination been secured without the odium attached to it, which could not be overcome, there would have been no question about his election.

Mr. Baines, the successful candidate, will make a good mayor. He is regarded as a conservative, conscientious man, possessing intelligence and the honesty of his convictions.

The only thing that can be urged against him is that he is a democrat, and that is bad enough in this year 1895.

A REMARKABLE PROPHECY.

No man had a keener prescience and a wider intellectual view than the late Secretary Blaine. Listen to his remarkable words of prophecy uttered before the last presidential election:

"I love my country and my countrymen. I am an American, and I rejoice every day of my life that I am. I enjoy the general prosperity of my country, and know that the workingmen of this land are the best paid, the best fed, and the best clothed of any laborers on the face of the earth. Many of them have homes of their own. They are surrounded by all the comforts and many of the luxuries of life. I shudder, however, at the thought that the time must come when all this will be changed; when the general prosperity of the country will be destroyed; when the great body of workingmen in this land, who are now so prosperous, will hear their wives and children cry for bread, that the day must come when the great factories and manufactories of this land will shut down, and, where there is now life and activity, there will be the silence of the tomb.

And the reason why this must be is this: The great southern wing of the democratic party are determined to establish the doctrine of free trade in this land. They will be assisted by their northern allies. The fight is now on. There is a great body of visionary but educated men who are employed day by day in writing free trade essays and arguments in favor of that doctrine, which find their way into every newspaper in this land. The great body of our people have never experienced themselves the sufferings which always result when the protective principles are laid aside. Poisoned and excited by the wild statements of these writers and the demagogic appeals of democratic speakers, the result will be that in the near future these forces which are now working will be strong enough to defeat at the polls the party advocating the doctrine of protection.

It must inevitably follow that uncertainty and doubt will ensue. The business men of the country fearing the destruction of the principle of protection, will decline to engage in business, consequently mills will shut down and the workingmen will be thrown out of employment. The people will then see what they have never seen before, that thay cannot be prosperous and have work while this principle is threatened. In the midst of their suffering they will learn that the only way they can be prosperous and happy is to vote for the party that has built up the industries by which they have gained a livelihood; because they will see clearly that when the manufactory is shut down there is no demand for the only thing which they have to sell, and that is their labor.—American Economist.

Misrepresentatiou.

Every concern that had an exhibi at the World's Fair went away claiming that they were awarded first premiums. This is not only true of World's Fair exhibitors, but it's true of people who had exhibits of buggies at our local fair, and we wish to say that some such claims are absolutely false, as the records will show that in the past two years the Wisconsin Carriage Top Co. have made exhibits, they have taken first premiums for the best top buggy exhibited and also extension top surreys. We wore the blue ribbon away both seasons, and will as long as we make a display, as no buggy in these parts is as good as we make and we stand ready to prove it, and leave it to any number of judges.

Such a Nice Young Man, Too.

Mrs. Hashleigh—Such a gentleman, that Mr. Hallrume was! Never complained if he had no towels, never sneered at the prunes or made remarks about the napkins. But for his one great fault I'd never have let him leave the house.

Forth Flohr—Oh! he had a fault, had he?

Mrs. Hashleigh—Yes; he thought if he sat around praising things, it wasn't necessary to pay board.—Puck.

A Small Boy's Little Joke.

"Pop," said little Caleb Penquin, "why are soldiers like rocks?"

"Because they stand fast," said Mr. Penquin.

"Nope," said Caleb.

"Because they never fly," said Mr. Penquin.

"Nope," said Caleb.

"Why is it, then, Caleb?" said Mr. Penquin.

"'Cause they're both drilled," said little Caleb.—N. Y. Sun.

Easily Explained.

Lady (to her husband)—I am growing so fat that I am beginning to feel quite alarmed about it. I have just discovered that I weigh two hundred and forty pounds.

"Two hundred and forty pounds! And where did you get weighed?"

"On the butcher's scales."

"Oh, then, calm yourself! You weigh exactly half."—Le Figaro

Two Sorts of Pride.

Little Miss Mugg (proudly)—Pop has bought this house, and paid for it, too.

Little Miss Freckles (loftily)—We wouldn't want to be known as the owners of such a miserable house as that.

Little Miss Mugg (angrily)—You live in a worse one.

Little Miss Freckles (triumphantly)—We only rent it.—Good News.

Contempt of Court.

Lawyer—I ask your honor to fine me for contempt of court.

Judge—You have not shown any contempt of court, colonel.

Lawyer—Perhaps not, sir, but I've been feeling it all the same, while your honor was sitting down on my authorities and overruling my points.—Truth.

Getting Scarce.

Stage Villain—I have a scheme to rob a bank.

Second Stage Villain—Impossible!

Stage Villain—Why impossible?

Second Stage Villain—Where are you going to find one that hasn't already been robbed?—N. Y. World.

A Choice of Evils.

Landlady—Would you advise me to send my daughter to a cooking school or to a music school?

Boarder (reflectively)—Well, I think I'd send her to a cooking school. It may be more fatal in its results, but it isn't anything like so noisy.—Detroit Free Press.

Papa Was More Picturesque.

Johnny (who has jammed his finger)—Plague take it!

Teacher—Oh, Johnny, you shouldn't say that!

Johnny—You'd oughter to hear my papa when he hurts hisself!—Boston Transcript.

It Wouldn't Matter.

Little Boy—Sister says she's never going to marry anyone that's in trade. She says she's goin' to marry a professional man.

Old Lady—Well, it won't matter. The little dear never did have much appetite, anyway.—N. Y. Weekly.

Easily Accounted For.

"Yes, sir," he said with a grand sweep of the hand; "I have never had a poem rejected by a newspaper in my life."

"How do you account for it?"

"The easiest way in the world. I never write poetry."—Judge.

The Absolutism of Nicholas.

An important piece of news from Russia has been the assertion of autocracy in its most extreme form by the young czar. He had entered upon his reign so amiably, and in what seemed to be so reasonable and so tolerant a spirit, that it came to be hoped in some quarters that he might look with favor upon a slight further development of representative self-government in the provincial and local councils. But he has sternly rebuked all such aspirants, and has informed the nobles and aristocratic elements that he would stand firmly where his father stood and maintain the absolutism of the czar without impairment at any point. It is just possible that he may live to regret this pronunciamento. The grand difference between this young gentleman and his lamented father lies in the fact that Alexander had demonstrated his capacity and his faithfulness as an absolute ruler, while Nicholas has yet to give some evidence of possessing even average ability and character.

LICENSE ELECTION WAS A LEGAL ONE

SUPREME COURT AFFIRMS JUDGE BENNETT'S DECISION

Saloon Keepers Will Have To Pay $500 For the Right to Sell Intoxicating Liquors In the City of Janesville—The Points of Law—Banker Koetting Sent to Jail.

Janesville license election was valid and the price of license is $500.

So the supreme court decided this morning, affirming Judge Bennett's decision.

The court met this morning to hand down decisions in the last assignment of cases argued. There was but one Janesville case and this involved the legality of the special election held in Janesville September 18, 1894, to fix the price of license to be paid by those keeping saloons in the city. The case is brought in the name of the state upon the relation of Jamas Ennis who kept a saloon in the city at the time of the holding of the election.

On October 24, 1894, Mr. Ennis by J. L. Mahoney and Edward M. Hyzer, his attorneys, filed a petition asking that the case be taken from the circuit court for Rock county to the supreme court in order to decide whether the election so held was legal. The case was argued at the last session of the supreme court by Mr. Hyzer and Mahoney for Mr. Ennis and by H. McElroy for the city, the common council, the inspectors of election, clerks and ballot clerks employed in that election, all of whom are made parties.

The facts of the case are briefly these: On August 31, 1894, a petition for a special election was filed in the office of the city clerk signed by Jacob Fredendall, Washington Kelly, E. F. Kelly, R. H. Pickering, H. Bump, S. Chase, F. M. Hibbard. A. P. Burnham, F. S. Winslow, C. S. Jackman, J. H. Balch, Stanley S. Smith and John G. Rexford and on September 6, 1894, the clerk published the notice of the election in the Daily Gazette and in the Daily Becorder but failed to have the same published in the Daily Republican, then just started.

The petition sets forth among other things that the election was not valid because instead of one ballot upon which to place the amount voted for. Three ballots were given each voter with the amounts of $350 and $500 on them. Each voter was to select one ballot and return the other two to the inspectors of election, thus making it possible for them to know just how each man voted and destroying the secrecy of the ballot. As the immediate cause of the action, Mr. Ennis sets forth that he was about to sell dis business to Joseph Denning and Joseph Dumphy and that the raising of the license caused the proposed sale to fail and damaged him to the amount of $100.

Mr. McElroy argued that the election was valid because the provisions of the law relied upon by Mr. Ennis did not apply to special elections and that the mere failure to publish notices in the Daily Republican had no effect on the election as the large vote showed that all had notice of the same.

A decision was rendered this morning in the habeas corpus case of Ex Banker John B. Koetting of Milwaukee. An attempt was made to secure his liberty on the plea that the law under which he was convicted was not constitutional.

The writ of habeas corpus was denied and Koetting was ordered into the custody of the sheriff.

The Shoppers' Paradise.

Although it may be eminently true, as the poet says, that in "the spring the young girl's fancy gently turns to thoughts of love," it is still more true that in the spring the attention of all the feminine world is turned to thoughts of openings in the millinery establishments. Tomorrow afternoon the first opening given by M. A. Morrissey & Co. will commence. It will last during Friday and Friday evening. Everytning will be superb, and many hats that are the very latest will be shown as Miss Grogan is an artist in the trimming department, and Bower City ladies will at once recogonize her superiority in this line. The Orpheus Mandolin club will play and everything will be lovely—A paradise as it were.

The announcement of her death will be a sad surprise, as she was a lady loved and respected by a large circle of friends.

TRACKED A DRUNK BY A BLOODY TRAIL

HOW TURNKEY NORTH FOUND RICHARD DIXON.

J. C. Fox Had Taken Dixon For a Burglar Early This Morning and Cut a Deep Gash In His Head That Bled Freely—The Municipal Court's Grind.

J. C. Fox cut a five inch gash in Richard Dixon's head at 4 o'clock this morning and then called in the police. About that hour in the morning Mr. Fox heard some one prowling about the house and sat down to wait for results. Presently footsteps were heard on the porch and Mr. Fox sprang upon the intruder, dealing him a heavy blow on the head. The prowler fell heavily and Mr. Fox at once went to the St. Paul freight house and telephoned the jail. Turnkey North responded to the call and on reaching Mr. Fox' house, found that he could track Dixon by the trail of blood that he left behind him and found his man near F. S. Baines' tobacco warehouse. The turnkey took his prisoner to jail but as Dixon simply had a "wandering jag on" and had received a deep gash in his head, it was thought he had been punished enough and no complaint will be made against him. Dr. Joe Whiting dressed his head.

Paul Watson of Edgerton was arranged in the municipal court this morning on charge of the larceny of a bottle of liquor from Charles P. Frank, February 24. He pleaded guilty and was fined $5 and costs, or five days in jail.

Charles Jones of Porter was brought up to answer the complaint of Miss Sarah Henrietta Norton of the same town and the case was set for trial on April 24.

The alleged Northwestern car burglars, Franklyn, Flynn and Crowley were also brought into court, when the trial was continued until April 8.

MUCH INTEREST IS SHOWN IN THE CONTEST.

The polls for The Gazette contest for the babies is now open and the ballot will be found at the close of this article and will run until June 1, when the contest will close. Much interest is centered in The Gazette's offer to present the baby who gets the highest number of votes with $500 worth of stock in the Rock County Building Loan and Savings Association. It is a prize worth getting, for naturally it will be worth just half a thousand dollars. That will be a nice nest egg if kept at interest after maturity until the child becomes old enough to want to use it.

It will buy an education.

It will buy a buy a building lot.

It will buy a piano and the lessons necessary to play upon it.

It is more than many people are able to save in a life time.

Of course all the mothers and fathers want it for their babe. How to get it is told below:

The polls opened this morning and will remain open until June 1. The baby that receives the most ballots in that time will receive a certificate calling for these five shares of stock. There are no dues to be paid, no assessments to be met, no installments to provide for. The stock stands for $500 in cash and on its maturity, which will be in nine and one-third years, the money will be ready. The prize is a handsome one—it is well worth winning and the conditions of the ballot are as follows:

From March 1 until June 1, a coupon will be printed in each issue of The Gazette.

Any one, anywhere in any state is entitled to vote as often as they buy a copy of The Janesville Gazette containing the above ballot.

Cut the ballot out (trimming on the dotted lines.) Write in the name of your candidate and enclose same in an envelope addressed to to Ballot Editor. Gazette, Janesville, Wis.

Only one person can be voted for on one ballot.

The baby who receives the largest number of votes will receive five shares of stock in the Rock County Building & Savings Association, cash value, $500 at maturity.

The contest will close June 1 at 9 p. m., and the stock will be delivered as soon as the count of votes is completed.

Any non-subscriber who will subscribe for The Gazette and pay in advance will be entitled to the following number of ballots:

New subscriber paid in advance one month, 100 votes.

New subscriber paid in advance two months, 250 votes.

New subscriber paid in advance six months, 900 votes.

New subscriber paid in advance one year, 2,000 votes.

Each new subscriber who pays in advance and casts the number of votes specified is also entitled, of course, to cut coupons from the paper from day to day and vote in the regular manner.

No person will be allowed extra votes for stopping his paper and having it sent to another name at the same address.

In every instance they must be bona fide new subscribers.

No person will be allowed to stop his paper on Monday and start it again Tuesday and claim the premium offered.

No votes can be transferred from one candidate to another after being registered in this office.

Candidates must not be more that three years of age March 1, 1895, and must live in Janesville.

THE BALLOT.

THE LATEST PLAN.

Co-operation of Production and Distribution Now to Be Tried.

Lyman Trumbull, the noted ex-United States senator from Illinois, has been asked to become the head of a great labor organization, whose objects are to foster colonization on a voluntary co-operative basis, providing profitable employment for the unemployed and fostering independent political action among wage-workers. A prominent man in the labor movement in Chicago said of the subject to the Chicago Times-Herald: "It is true that a new movement is on foot to organize the wageworkers of the United States into one great central union, but at present the matter is in such shape that we prefer to have little said about it in the newspapers. In fact we do not wish to spring the matter until all the details are arranged and that will necessarily take considerable time. All I can say at present is that the movement has practically been started in nearly every city of any importance in the United States. As soon as a little more headway is made a convention will be called and a plan of organization adopted. The general object of the organization will be the improvement of the condition of the wage-workers of the country. The details will be left to the convention. One of the cardinal principles of the new union will be the elimination of the strike features of all the old ones. In place of the strike we will be able to offer arbitration, and failing in that, remunerative employment at something else. By taking up the surplus labor of the great cities and starting it into productive employment we will benefit not only the unemployed but those already engaged in every line of productive industry. The necessity for some such movement is generally recognized, but the great difficulty is to get it into operation. Experience has demonstrated that little if anything can be hoped from governmental aid. The only hope is from organization and co-operation among the people who will be benefited by the same."

The new organization would in no way antagonize the old unions, but would be constructed on such a basis as to allow them to come in without disturbing their own autonomy and at an insignificant expense. It will be known as the American Industrial union and has temporary officers in the Masonic Temple.

Swept By a Cyclone,

Of approbation to the pinnacle of popularity, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters has acquired a commanding position, which has occasionally made it a bright and shining mark for knaves, who seek to foist upon the community spurious compounds in the guise akin to that of the real article. These are mostly local bitters or tonics of great impurity, and of course, devoid of medicinal efficacy. Beware of them and get the genuine Bitters, a real remedy for malaria, rheumatism, kidney trouble, dyspepsia, nervousness, constipation and biliousness. Physicians of eminence everywhere commend the great invigorant, both for its remedical properties and its purity. A wineglass thrice a day will soon bring vigor and regularity to a disordered and enfeebled system.

Be sure and use that old and well tried remedy, Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for children teething. It sooths the child, softens the gums allays all pain, cures wind colic and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

The Indiana Bicycle Company reports a remarkable fact regarding the strength of the wheel, which certainly speaks volumes for the Waverley. Since the Waverley has been on the market about 25,000 have been sold, but up to the present time not a single frame has ever been reported broken from any cause. A great many machines that had been run over by ice wagons, street cars, trucks, etc, have been returned for repairs, but not a single frame with a piece of broken tubing or defective brazed joint, nor a broken or defective forging has as yet shown up. —REFEREE.

SUNSET IN THE WOODS.

Here as I lie 'neath shady trees,
In rustling woodland sweet and green,
The sun's last rays are creeping through
And lighting up the shadowy scene.

The voices of the wood sing songs
That cheer the sad and gloomy mind.
The wind comes softly through the trees
And leaves them whisp'ring far behind.

A placid stream runs purling by,
And at its murmuring edges near
The grand old oaks stand close and sway
While gazing in its bosom clear.

Through all the wood the glowing lights
And colors of the setting sun
Are touching leaf and sprig and trunk
As o'er the quiet stream they run.

A yellow leaf comes flutt'ring down
Into its gently flowing tide.
A cricket's chirping in the grass
Is softly echoing far and wide.

The golden tints on forest leaves
Have slowly faded with the day.
The shadows in the evening light
Grow long and blend and die away.
—Charles N. Myers in Detroit Free Press.

"JACOB AND ME."

"Me" was Rupert, and it was early in the summer that he begged to have his hair cut.

"It's so hot and tickly and tangly and boversome, and I'm old enough to look like a boy," he said, which was true. His mother put her arms around him—they were sitting in the big wicker chair by the parlor window—and held him as if she would never let him go.

"I want my baby as he is," she said, which was also true. There was a little silence.

It was a low, little room, full of quiet and half darkness. There were some well filled bookshelves, well chosen pictures, just enough pretty and more or less worn rugs and cushions and a bowl of garden roses on a low table. The child leaned his head against his mother's shoulder, the despised hair a bright tangle against her dark gown and gazed adoringly into her face, but she was looking out of the window across the meadow, where the black trees and the slender spire of St. Michael and All Angels' were clearly defined against the cool twilight sky. There was a churchyard around St. Michael's, but it was in the shadow. The twilight deepened. A cowbell tinkled in the distance, and a young man and two girls with pretty shirt waists and tennis racquets went chattering laughingly by.

"That's the boy that plays the organ at St. Michael's," said Rupert. "I go in sometimes to hear him do it. He likes it. When he isn't playing, he is talking to those three nice girls in the little house down the road. They each have a scrapbook, and the litlte boy has a scrapbook, and they put everyfing in"—

He stopped suddenly, his gaze followed his mother's across the meadow, and he slipped one soft arm around her neck, while she took possession of the little brown hand and kissed it gently. An old woman came slowly down the road—an old woman, with straight, white hair, blue calico gown and red handkerchief twisted around her neck. She was driving a flock of clamoring ducks and geese, and Rupert's interest was at once awakened.

"Buy me one, mamma, one of the big white ones. It would be such good company, and I'll never say another word about the hair." It was an odd fancy and odder bargain, but it ended in Mrs. Cardell's most promising gander, very much surprised and named Jacob, being shut up in Mrs. Ware's chicken house for the night.

He did prove "good company." With a string around his leg for safety, he followed Rupert hither and yon. Together they planted a garden and dug it up from time to time to see 'how it grew;" together they hunted for frogs in the meadow, and together they waded in the brook below the hill; together they sat on the steps when it was time for "mamma" to come home, holding a long and rather one sided conversation.

In September a plan began to grow in Rupert's little head, and he told Jacob all about it.

Mamma had begun to teach in town now and was away all day. Julia, the maid, could be very good when she chose, but the day Rupert came tumbling into the kitchen, his feet very muddy, dragging after him poor bewildered Jacob by the length of his string, trying to explain all in a moment, she said:

"Did I ever see the like of such a bothersome child, and the pesky beast"—and picked them up unceremoniously by the left wing and the right arm and put them down on the doorstep. Rupert cried a little, and Jacob went to sleep on one leg, and presently Julia repented, spread a nice slice of graham bread with apple sauce and presented it as a peace offering, explaining that she had just scrubbed the kitchen and was ill tempered into the bargain "along of reasons you can't comprehend. And tell me about the plan, darlin."

Rupert sniffed, ate some of the bread and fed the rest to Jacob, talking all the time.

"Mamma's birthday and St. Michael and All Angels' day come just the same—next Saturday—and papa used to buy a goose and apple sauce and a cake with candies. Twenty-eight it was last year. This year makes 29, and the big punch bowl full of Michaelmas daisies—papa used to go way into the country when we were in the fiat in town, but here the meadow is full of them. Jacob and me found them—and candles in the silver candlesticks and dinner cards. Could you paint dinner cards, Julia? The boy that plays the organ could do them, I think," but Julia was thinking of something else, her forehead wrinkled up, her pale blue eyes gazing into indefinite distance.

Rupert wondered suddenly why Julia "didn't go on and finish being pretty." Her hair was soft and wavy and brown, and though she twisted it up tightly twice a day it generally rippled loosely above a broad white forehead. Her eyes were very light, but shaded by long dark lashes, and her cheeks were the color of wild roses. Beyond this her beauty ceased. Her mouth was very wide; her waist was very big; she herself was very long, and her fingers were bent quite crooked with rheumatism. Rupert tried to straighten them out as she went on talking.

"It's a cake you're wantin, and apple sauce and daisies—them's easy got—and candles. There's a plenty left from Christmas, but a goose'd be a big item on the bill, an it as small as it has to be, an a bit of steak here, an a handful of mutton for a stew there, an a lilliputian roast of a Sunday. There's Jacob now."

Rupert stood up suddenly and gathered Jacob into his arms. He was growing very heavy.

"We're going to find the boy that plays the organ," he said with dignity.

He found him on the piazza of the little house down the road, deep in scrapbooks and newspaper clippings, with two of the girls, while the other girl was making lemonade and putting in a word now and then. They were all enthusiastically discussing theatricals for the benefit of a local charity, but looked up and smiled as "Jacob and me" came up the path.

"I want to talk to the boy that plays the organ," he said. They all laughed, which was very embarrassing and made Rupert's little face very red in its tangle of golden hair. He put down Jacob and hauled in on the string until Jacob lost his equilibrium entirely, and then he let it out again. They persuaded him to have some of the lemonade, which he liked immensely, but "the boy" took him unceremoniously up on his knee and asked how old he was, which is a blow to would be dignity. Rupert said "Five," wriggled away and sat on the steps and told his story. General interest was aroused.

"Let's all help, and you make the prettiest dinner cards you can."

"I will," said the boy.

"I'm very much obliged," said Rupert, gathering up Jacob, "and you all come. You look so pretty it will be like a party. Julia won't mind." They all accepted.

Friday afternoon Rupert gathered daisies in the meadow, and Jacob helped—at least he looked out for stray frogs and was "good company." They took them home and rested and had their supper of bread and milk on the back porch—Mrs. Ware was away until evening on Fridays—and then disappeared down the road to the village. By and by Rupert went back to the meadow and gathered the rest of the daisies alone.

The sky behind St. Michael's spire was rose color and gold, and a most slender silver moon shone over the tops of the trees. When he had carried the daisies across the meadow, the sunset had faded to a silver gray, the moon had gone, one big star was reflected in the brook below the hill, and it was growing very cold. Rupert sat down by the stone wall, and two tears rolled down his cheeks. The windows of the little church glowed with soft light.

The sexton was preparing for Friday evensong. Suddenly the world seemed very big and wide, and the child lay face down in the grass and cried and cried. There the boy found him, and picking him up carried him and the daisies home and told Julia to put him to bed, while he himself put the daisies to sleep in a tub in the cellarway. Then he had to race across the meadow to be in time to play.

The next morning he brought over the dinner cards—even Rupert was satisfied with them—and staid a long while in the kitchen sticking the 29 pink candles on the birthday cake and talking quietly and sensibly all the time. The market man came in like a flash and threw a goose on the table. It was marked "Paid." Julia was bewildered. "The boy" disclaimed all knowledge of it and went home.

He came over again in time to set the table. He knew just how to settle the daisies in the big punch bowl and put things just right, with daisies and a dinner card at each plate, and all the time the goose smelled very good. Rupert was afraid it would "give them away just too soon," but it was a perfect surprise—the pretty table, the three pretty girls, "the boy," the daisies, the goose, the apple sauce, the birthday cake, the candles and Rupert beaming away from the other end of the table.

"Who planned it all?" said Mrs. Ware when they were in the little parlor later on, with a gay little fire on the hearth and Michaelmas daisies showing bravely from every point of vantage. "The boy" was playing softly on the piano, the girls were in a pretty group on the hearth rug, wondering why they had never appreciated Mrs. Ware before, and she and Rupert were in the big wicker chair in the broad firelight.

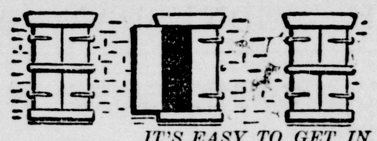

"Jacob and me planned it all," Rupert answered. "'The boy' did most of it, and the girls were kind, and they look so pretty, and the winter was coming, and Julia doesn't like us in the kitchen, and soon the frogs will be gone—the goose was Jacob! I couldn't eat any myself."

There was an odd little silence after this until "the boy" began to play Chopin's impromptu in A flat.

The next day Rupert had his hair cut quite close, "like a boy." Mrs. Ware gathered it up as it fell, took it home and laid it tenderly in a little drawer. She was smiling, and yet there were tears in her eyes. She was thinking of "Jacob and me."—Churchman.

The Violet.

The violet does best in a moderately rich, moisture looking loamy compost, with no rank manure within reach of the roots. The planting should be firmly done, crowding of the plants not allowed and but little space between the lights and the plants permitted. Therefore the foundation of the bed must not be of a yielding character, and for this purpose nothing is worse than manure or tree leaves.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch

IT'S EASY TO GET IN, where there's a sluggish liver, for any of the germs of disease that surround you. If your liver were active and healthy, it would keep them out of your blood. You'll have to watch your liver for self-protection.

Just as soon as you see the first symptoms that it's wrong (eruptions on the skin, or a dull and worn-out feeling) you ought to take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. That will start your liver into a healthy, natural action, purify your blood, too; it will brace up your whole system, and give you strength and color, and put on needed flesh—not fat, but wholesome, necessary flesh.

Milford Centre, O.

Dr. R. V. PIERCE: Dear Sir—I heartily recommend your "Discovery" to any person suffering from general debility as the best thing they can take for it. After taking the "Discovery" I am happy to say I never felt better in my life than I do now.
